

Small Urban and Rural Transit Center

National Mobility Summit of US DOT University
Transportation Centers

Jill Hough, Ph.D.

Program Director / Associate Professor

North Dakota State University

SURTC UTC Partnerships

- Montana State University and Eastern Washington University
 - Small Urban & Rural Livability Center (MSU only)
 - Small Urban, Rural and Tribal Center on Mobility
- Various State Transit Associations / DOTs

Quick List of Some Research Projects

- Aging in Place in Rural Environments
- Relationships between Land Use, Transportation, Household Expenditures, and Municipal Budgets
- Automated Transit Technologies: Identifying Challenges and Potential Market for Application
- The Impact of Oil Boom and Bust Cycles on Western North Dakota Transit Service
- Benefits and Costs of Rural Transit

Transit and Rural Livability

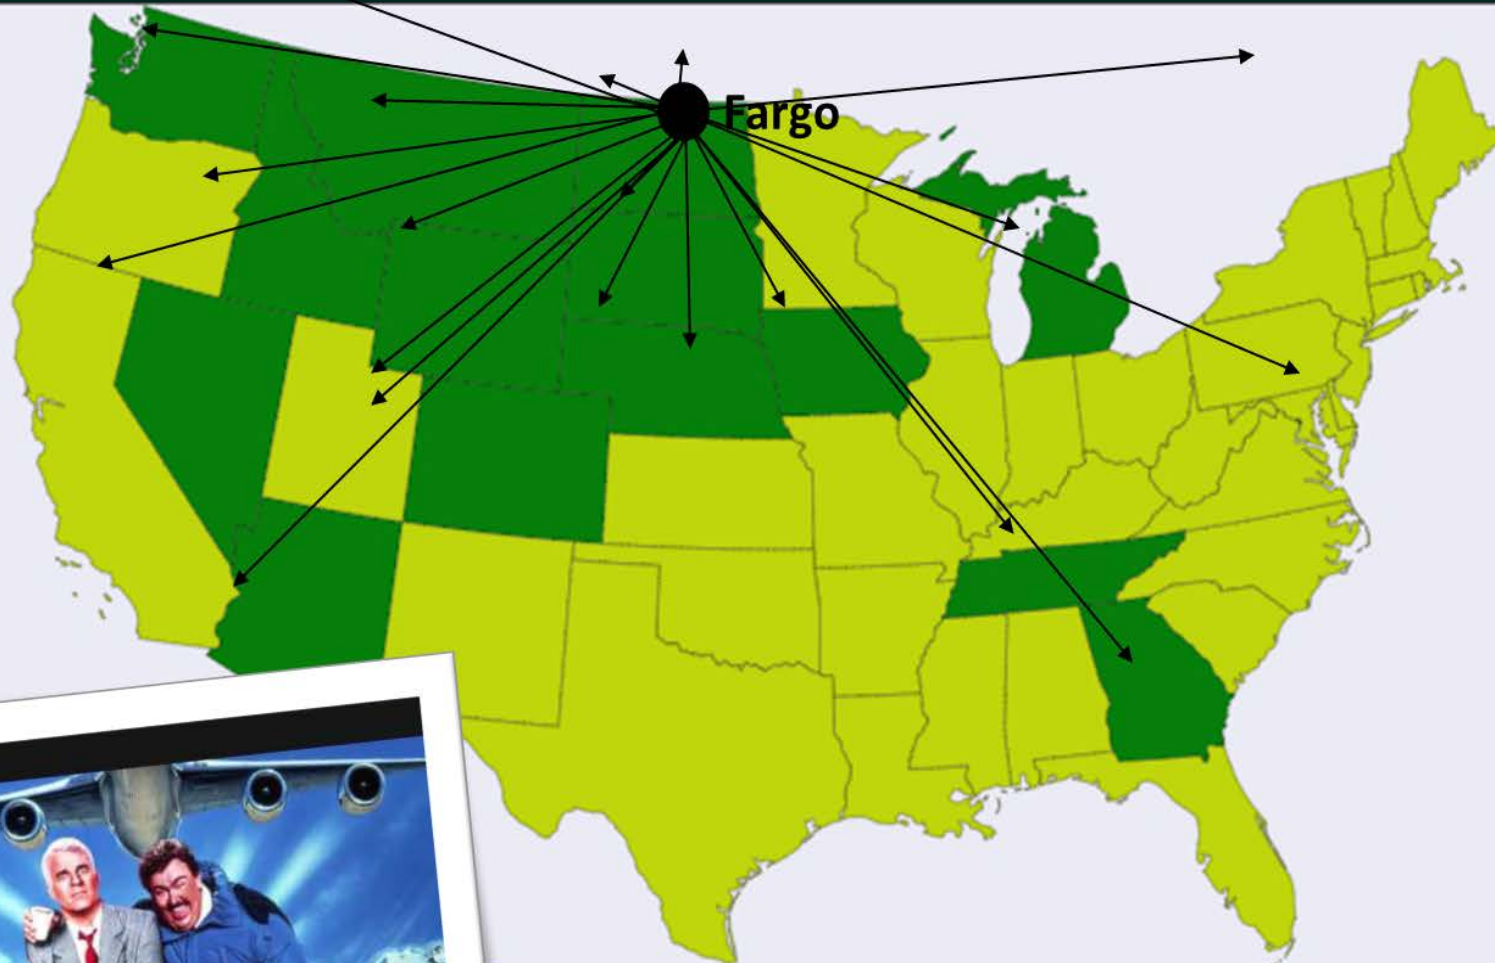

Collaboration with Texas A&M Transportation Institute

- Previous phase: Rural case studies
- Current phase: National livability survey
- Objectives:
 - Collect information about the nexus of livability and public transit
 - Provide decision-makers with information about how to improve community livability

Education

- College of Business
 - Transportation & Logistics, Ph.D.
 - Transportation and Urban Systems, M.S.
 - Masters in Managerial Logistics
- Courses
- Students

2017 SURTC Training and Outreach

SURTC Training and Outreach

2017 Stats...

- 15 States/20 Cities
- 2 Canadian Provinces
- 35 Presentations
- 1039 Attendees
- 2699 Contact Hours
- 1500+ Trade Show Contacts
- 45+ Trade Show Hours

SURTC Training and Outreach

Atlanta
Denver
Seattle
Tampa
Pittsburgh
Boyer City
Brookings
Breckenridge
Riverton
Pierre
Lincoln

